EIGHTY-FIRST ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT OF ST. STANISLAUS COLLEGE

Event Attracted Many to College Auditorium Last Sunday
Forenoon—Speaker For Occasion Dwelt on
"Character"—List of Awards

As a tribute to the popularity and as a further mark of interest, a large assembly witnessed the eighty-first annual commencement exercises of St. Stanislaus College, Bay St. Louis, last Sunday morning, beginning at 11 o'clock. Notwithstanding the inclement weather the hall was filled to capacity.

Aside from conferring the diplomas to twenty-four seniors an outstanding feature of the exercises was the address of Bro. Ignatius, S. C., of Mobile Institute, Mobile, Ala., who was the speaker of the occasion.

Using the motto of St. Stanislaus, "The School of Character," as his guide, he addressed the graduates in a masterly manner and spoke with depth and lasting impression to all privileged to have heard him.

"The motto," said Bro. Ignatius, "has been chosen by St. Stanislaus because the prime motive for the existence of St. Stanislaus is the training of character. Each and every faculty member recognizes the work for which St. Stanislaus is famous. Since, therefore, this training has been a part of the work pursued at St. Stanislaus for the term of your stay there, it will not be hard to offer you advice."

"Since you boys have had the happy privilege of being trained here at St. Stanislaus, you have some duties to perform in accordance with that motto which will justify its use. You must act with the church, you must bring your training into every phase of social life, if these things are accomplished then you are men of character and worthy of calling yourselves real sons of St. Stanislaus."

An interesting program preceded the awarding of honors, as follows: Overture—"Night in Tripoli,"—S. S. C. Band.

SCHARFF'S STORE UNDERGOES GENERAL PAINT RENOVATION

Well-Known Food Store at
Main and Toulme Streets
Inviting and Attractive

Painters and others have completed the work of renovating and enhancing the interior of "Scharff's," well-known food store and general market owned and operated by our townsman, Joseph R. Scharff.

The color scheme of a deep shade of blue and white as a contrasting combination has been used throughout the store. Fixtures carry these colors throughout and are not only attractive and tasty but make for better cleanliness and sanitation, an element that is ever uppermost in the Scharff establishment.

A system of departments is noted throughout the arrangement of the store. Certain class goods will be found in respective sections and each carrying a sign of legible letters telling the customer just where such goods might be found.

The grocery stock always carry variety and selection and low prices, consistent with the best and markets, makes it possible to move goods quickly, thus assuring the public of new and fresh supplies. The market carries choice and varied meats, sausages, hams, etc., all that go with a first-class market.

Mr. Scharff is optimistic, believing in the upward and onward trend and not only says we are going to have an unusually big business for this summer but backs this assertion by the fact that his store, with a group of polite, accommodating and efficient force, is ready to serve.

FORMER BELOVED BAY CITY RESIDENT PASSES ON AT N. O.

Mr. John F. Markey Laid to Rest Tuesday—Aged
81 Years

Following a stroke recently suffered, Mrs. John F. Markey died at her home, in South Claiborne street, New Orleans, Sunday morning at 9:10 o'clock, with funeral ceremony Tuesday morning. The deceased was a native of New Orleans, aged 81 years.

Mrs. Markey was a resident of Bay St. Louis for quite a number of years, her late husband, who died here, and self building and owning the dwelling presently occupied by Dr. A. P. Smith and family on the beach boulevard.

She was the aunt of Misses Margaret and Anna Mae Connelly. Mrs. Temple H. Black, of New Orleans, Mrs. Julius M. Lopez of Biloxi, Mrs. Charles T. Bruce and Mrs. Marie Louise Jaden of Bay St. Louis, Mrs. Markey was a sister-in-law of the late Miss Mary Markey who for many years owned and operated the well-known "Clifton House" hotel of Bay St. Louis, and also of Mrs. B. F. Markey, residing in Union street, Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Markey had succeeded her husband's ownership of the Markey Undertaking establishment at New Orleans, which she conducted for many years, but disposed of it last October, her health failing and due to advancing years.

Mississippi Power Company Offers New Rates to Consumers

Substantial reductions in electrical power rates are offered by the Mississippi Power Company in a promotional plan announced this week and as per advertisement appearing in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo.

The rate plan is being offered to all urban residential customers. Under the plan, which is optional and may be secured upon application, each customer has what is called a "base bill." This base bill is defined as the amount paid the same month of the 12-months period preceding the effective date of the new promotional rate which is effective July 1.

The new rate schedule will give the customers an added amount of electrical energy each month without increase in cost, and where the amount of current used exceeds the additional free amount, the rate will be considerably lower than the basic rate. Small users will benefit just as much as large users.

FOR LAKESHORE PATRONS

For the convenience of Lakeshore patrons it is announced that books in future from the public library (Federal project) may be had at Mrs. Wadsworth's.

BIEHL OUT FOR SENATE

Native of Hancock County
And Bay St. Louis Resident
Announces Candidacy

Albert D. Biehl, native and resident, is formally announced in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo as a candidate for the Senate from the fortieth senatorial district of Mississippi, composed of Hancock, Lamar and Pearl River counties.

It has been customary, and the custom is observed, that a candidate seeking this office from a district composed of three counties is eligible from one to three, each county in turn. At present Pearl River county supplies the senator and it devolves at this election time that the candidate come from Hancock. Four years hence it will be Lamar county's turn.

Hence Hancock presents the candidates and Mr. Biehl is one of the two thus formally announced in the Hancock county newspaper.

Mr. Biehl, who is a young, energetic and wide-awake young man, announces that he is a friend of the people, the masses, and will endeavor to serve the people to the best and utmost capacity. He favors a reduction in the poll tax. He says the present rate deprives the poor man from voting. Poll taxes should be reduced he says, so that no one will sacrifice his or her right to vote. The present Poll Tax is a burden where there are three, four or five voters in a family.

Reduction in cost of automobile license.

Elimination of Personal Tax on automobiles.

I am opposed to chain stores. I am opposed to out-of-state merchants sending their merchandise into our state by trucks and delivering direct to the consumer, thereby taking the trade from the merchants of Mississippi. The Mississippi merchant has to pay taxes, rent and wages and cannot compete with the merchant from out of town who sends his merchandise in by trucks. I will do all in my power to have laws passed to protect Home Industries.

He says he is in favor of exempting the home owner from all State, County and City Taxes on his "home" up to $5000.00 assessment. This will encourage people to own their own home in our state. It will encourage people from other states to come to our state, thus increasing our own business.

I am in favor of a living wage for the working man.

I am in favor of free school books and will do all in my power to make our schools safe for full terms each year.

I am in favor of the old age pension.

I am a working man with a family and feel qualified to know the needs of the masses and will do all in my power to promote such legislation that will be beneficial to the masses. I am a native of Hancock County.

I have no selfish motives in seeking election to the State Senate nor am I the cats-paw of any political faction or financial interest, and will always work for the best interests of our State.

Albert Biehl is a man of the people, with the people and for the people and plans to serve them to their best interests. He has already spoken in several sections over the district and plans to make quite a number of addresses before the campaign closes.

On July 4 he will attend the big political rally at Piquette and address the multitude in the interest of his candidacy.

The Echo commends his candidacy to the earnest consideration of the lady and gentlemen voters of the three counties.

In line with other schools city of Bay St. Louis, the R. W. Taylor City Ward School had a successful year in every branch of endeavor and achievement. Mrs. W. W. Stockstill, teacher, has maintained the same high degree of efficiency which has marked her work preceding years. The Taylor School is an outstanding institution in the section of the city in which it is located and enjoying a hearty co-operation Mrs. Stockstill has made it so. A more devoted and conscientious teacher, one with that rare gift of inculcating knowledge, Mrs. Stockstill has made possible all the success that has come both to the school as a whole and to each pupil individually.

The P. T. A. under the leadership of Mrs. Kimmel, president and Mrs. T. Moton, sponsored the following activities during the past school term:

Hallowe'en Party, Thanksgiving Program and two Penny Parties.

The library furnished valuable assistance in the way of books for the grades. The children read and returned about 30 books for which the school thanks Miss Louise Crawford.

Several friends donated books to the school library and the school wishes to thank them also. All the acts of thoughtfulness help make the work of this school a success.

An outstanding feature was the free hot lunches served all pupils every noon, from Christmas time to the day of closing. This was made possible by the federal aid project and the personal co-operation of Mrs. Stockstill who prepared and served the meals each day. The food was donated through the aid. This was inestimable benefit, and meant for better nourishment, health and in turn better work. The R. W. Taylor is a splendid school and we are justly proud of its fine work. The teacher and parents who assist are to be complimented on their fine work.

Several hundred people assembled on the railroad grounds, opposite the row of mercantile buildings in that section, to attend a political rally of local candidates. A speaker's platform had been constructed for the occasion and a number of the candidates addressed the crowd. Hon. T. Ed. Kellar was master of ceremonies and did the honors in his usual masterly manner. Addresses were well received and the listeners enthusiastic in their applause.

At Kiln Monday afternoon Paul Johnson, candidate for governor, addressed voters of Hancock county on the occasion of a special political rally. County and district candidates were present and spoke in the open. However, the weather grew inclement and Mr. Johnson spoke from the Kiln Consolidated School auditorium, quite a number of people present. Hon. Emile J. Gex was master of ceremonies.

Uncle Charlie's Nite Club Continues As a Place of Delightful Resort

Uncle Charlie's Nite Club, the oldest on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, continues in popularity and as a place for ladies and gentlemen to spend an evening of delightful entertainment in the pleasure of the dance. Always an orchestra of the best present and with an attendance representing the best from the ranks of our people and adjacent territory it is no wonder young ladies and gentlemen and older adults have predilection for Uncle Charlie's. Our city has long needed representative place of this kind—where one's sons and daughters may assemble in an evening of social recreation and entertainment, and in thus supplying such a place Mr. Breath has well succeeded. Uncle Charlie's Nite Club has well nigh become a local institution. Open every Saturday night.

Several friends donated books to the school library and the school wishes to thank them also. All the acts of thoughtfulness help make the work of this school a success.

An outstanding feature was the free hot lunches served all pupils every noon, from Christmas time to the day of closing. Miss Marjorie Stewart, tri-county agent, wishes to remind ladies of Bay St. Louis and surrounding territory to meet Saturday June 8, at 2:30 o'clock in the interest of home demonstration and home economics. Public invited.

CCC quota in future will be drawn exclusively from relief rolls.

A change in the eligibility of candidates for the CCC camp enrollment for June 15th, was received at the ERA office and the announcement is made by Mrs. Thekla Crocker, County Administrator for Hancock.

Under date of May 27th, the following order was received from Mr. E. C. Hanna, CCC Procurement Representative.

"It has been ordered that selectees for enrollment beginning June 15, 1935, must in every case represent families on the public relief rolls." The applications of those boys who have been re-registering this week in the local ERA office and whose families are on relief rolls will be sent to the Jackson office for approval, all others will be ineligible for approval on this new ruling.

The CCC quota for Mississippi will be 4,784.

ERA Canning Program

The ERA canning centers throughout Hancock county started operations on Monday, May 27. Large quantities of snap beans were canned for the farmers who have an unusually large crop this year.

It is hoped that the record of last year's canning of 40,000 cans will be more than doubled this year.

ERA Farming Program in Hancock County

It would be interesting for the people who have maintained that Hancock county could not produce good crops because of its soil to take a trip through the rural sections of the county and see what is being done by the men who a year ago were discouraged and convinced that their land was non-productive.

Late in November when the local Rural Rehabilitation Committee visited the men who were being recommended for the Rural Rehabilitation Program they found little to encourage them to believe that these sadly neglected and run down places could hardly be called farms—could be rehabilitated. The men themselves however, were encouraged and urged to take advantage of this opportunity to develop and improve their lands and to make subsistence farmers of themselves.

Fifty-eight farmers were accepted by the State Rural Rehabilitation division, and these men were furnished with fertilizer, seed, implements, work animals, and subsistence needs—with the understanding that the money advanced for this purpose is to be repaid.

The members of the committee have been visiting these same farms this spring. Everyone is in excellent condition. The men and their families have worked untrudgingly in their fields and their farms are ones to be proud of. The crop of Irish and sweet potatoes, corn, beans, peas, tomatoes, okra, greens of all kinds, sugar cane and even cotton promise to bring in excellent returns if a market can be found for the produce. Every effort is being made by the County Farm Agent, and the County Administrator to get an immediate market for the Irish potatoes.

It is also gratifying to note that some of the farmers are beginning to pay back on their loans.

Besides the 58 Rural Rehabilitation farmers an effort has been made to interest other land owners in the county in the farming program.

Two hundred and ninety-nine small farm owners have been eager to improve their lands. They have been handicapped because there has not been the opportunity for them to borrow enough to improve their lands as the Rural Rehabilitation clients but they have shown a determined effort to help themselves and one another and have exchanged labor and work animals with one another so that their crops could be planted. Many of these men will now be able to qualify for the Rural Rehabilitation Program when additional clients are accepted. The ERA is proud of these 357 relief farmers in Hancock county making an earnest effort to become self-sustaining. Drive out and visit them and buy some of their produce.

KILLING STRAY DOGS

Chief of Police Hobbs informs The Echo that already over two hundred stray dogs have been put to death as a precaution and safety measure for the public. He asks that owners keep their dogs at home. Your dog, he says, might be bitten by another infected with rabies. This is a dangerous season and will so continue for the next 60 days.

ST. STANISLAUS COLLEGE

SUNDAY witnessed the eighty-first annual commencement exercises of St. Stanislaus College, Bay St. Louis, an outstanding event of not only local but of general interest as well.

St. Stanislaus College, chartered under the laws of the State of Mississippi, recognized high school with full credited affiliation, is well known and recognized over the South. Comparatively speaking, nearing the century mark, it has long ago taken its established position in the minds and hearts of the people. Truly an institution in more than the literal sense of academic work it is a factor and integral part in the very fabric of our moral, social and economic being.

Conducted by the Brothers of the Order of the Sacred Heart it has been conducted all these years with attendant success and we are told authoritatively that, even at this early date, the outlook for the coming session of 1935-36 bids fair for bigger enrollment. The faculty has labored hard and well and it is gratifying to learn its efforts are not only appreciated but rewarded.

CLERMONT HARBOR

OF all the delightful summer resorts this Gulf Coast justly boasts of none has more claim to patronage and popularity than our own little gem of a locality located over to the south of Bay-Waveland. This unusually attractive area of our coast, with its terraced lands, pine-laden and salt sea ozone offers advantages to the visitor and summer resident. Its proximity to New Orleans is a preponderous advantage since thousands from the city seek this section annually in quest of recreation and health.

No section of this Coast as a summer resort has made more rapid and substantial strides. We note considerable activity continues in Clermont and land and improved realty values are sustained. Here is one of the ideal Coast spots for a summer home and in time many more dwellings will have been constructed. Clermont Harbor still has many choice building sites to be had at cost within bounds of the average purse. Clermont Harbor is calling. It offers innumerable advantages.

ADVERTISING IN BAY ST. LOUIS

THE good will created by advertising is an intangible asset that is just as valuable to a merchant in Bay St. Louis as to the manufacturer of any of the thousands of things that have made fortunes for their owners because they have been well advertised.

It is often hard for a merchant in a place the size of Bay St. Louis to realize that advertising has an effect, even if all the people in the community know already that he is in business and that he wants them to buy what he has to sell. This fact, however, does not alter the truth established by the experience of too many business men, that advertising, like the truth, if stuck to, pays.

MORE SELF-DEFENSE

ITALY, it appears, is about to follow the Japanese example and wage a desperate war of "self-defense" against Abyssinia. Mussolini warns Europe that it has nothing to do with the affair between the two nations and both sides get ready for the fighting, which observers expect will begin in the next few months.

We confess much ignorance about the trouble between these powers. However, it seems to us that large and powerful nations must treat smaller and weaker nations with fairness and equity if they wish to promote world peace.

We have no objection if Princess Barbara Anybody wants to get a divorce and marry somebody else within five minutes but why the newspapers of the country print columns about it escapes our journalistic imagination.

We advise the people to keep posted on what goes on in Washington. The Federal Government today touches the life of the average citizen more than ever and there is, in spite of talk, little indication that this will be changed in the near future.

Mississippi won the flag from the American Red Cross for 1935 for attaining the greatest percentage increase in Junior Red Cross Enrollment. The flag was donated to the American Red Cross by L. O. Crosby of Picayune, and was presented to Mississippi at the National Red Cross Conference at Washington, D. C., on April 10th. The flag is now on display in the New Capitol.

France scores. The new trans-Atlantic liner, Normandie, completed her maiden trip from Southampton to Ambrose Lighthouse (U. S. A.) in 107 hours 33 minutes surpassing the best mark of the North German Lloyd, Bremen, 110 hours, twenty-seven minutes by almost three hours. The Normandie made New York harbor Monday morning amid the noise and reception as only New York can give.

NEWSPAPERS RENDER SERVICE

FEW people stop to think that newspapers, all over the United States, render many public services without compensation of a direct kind. The matter is excellently illustrated by the ready acquiescence of campaign managers in the payment to radio stations of fixed charges for broadcasting programs.

Newspapers, devote untold space to political events. Often they jeopardize their existence in political tactics, necessary in the opinion of the editor for reasons of public welfare. The political parties seldom figure that the widespread publicity given political events by the press of the nation is necessary to the proper functioning of the government itself.

Of course, the answer is that the press receives public advantages, in the mails, etc. This is true to some extent but the government has absolute control of radio for the public welfare and gives radio licenses, of great value, to certain stations in preference to other stations, for absolutely nothing. Moreover, the law protects the stations thus favored by driving out competition.

We would not be misunderstood. We do not advocate that newspapers cut out political news. We do not suggest that they cease political partisanship. We merely point out the facts stated above in order that some of the public, at least, may appreciate that most newspapers render distinct public service without compensation.

DR. DAFOE HONORED

A PRESS message from England says that Dr. Allan Dafoe, whose achievement in nursing the Dionne quintuplets through one year of life made medical history, has been appointed an officer of the order of the British Empire.

The award was conferred on the little Canadian physician in King George's birthday honors list, which extended recognition for meritorious services to men famous in artistic, literary and scientific fields throughout the empire.

Dr. Dafoe is worthy of any honor the Kingdom may see fit to confer upon him whether it be honorary or otherwise. This man of science has by his care and attention—thus manifesting an unflagging interest—earned the high official recognition that has come to him wherein by both professional and humane solicitation of both duty and affection, he has assisted in making possible an achievement without a parallel in the annals of the world's history—no quintuplets have lived.

People of the United States are equally interested as are their British cousins. There is common ground for congratulation. We hail Emelie, Anette, Yvonne, Marie and Cecile. May they see many such recurrent events.

SCHOOLS OUT

VACATION is at hand for hundreds of school children, college students, and teachers. After a strenuous session of work a little period of rest and recuperation is deserved and appreciated by all.

It's a pity that everywhere in life's work, vacations couldn't be arranged, most of them like many teachers in other sections with twelve months pay. Many men and women grind from start to finish of a early career and only stop at the final heartbeat.

Sooner or later in the progress of the world more leisure will be available for the working men and women in every sphere of life. What will be done with the spare time? Are we teaching ourselves to enjoy leisure in a healthful and helpful way?

In the meantime, here's luck and good enjoyment to those fortunate enough to have a period of relaxation and recuperation. May the summer vacation be enjoyed and may the next year's work be better than ever before.

WORK TOGETHER HERE

THE Sea Coast Echo again urges its readers to be ever alert in co-operating for the progress of the entire community. Joint action, harmoniously proceeding, can work untold wonders within any town or county.

As has been said before the greatest feature that lies before Bay-Waveland is the development of good towns in which to live, a good locale for children, a sturdy defense for the moral influences that govern human living.

Let us not become so engrossed with commercial and industrial ambitions that we lose sight of the great purposes of community life. That we desire a bigger, more prosperous section is natural but along with the ambition for greatness should go a determination for right living.

KEEP YOUR MONEY BY YOU

TRADING at home is a trite expression. It is worthy of the attention of every buyer of this county, just the same.

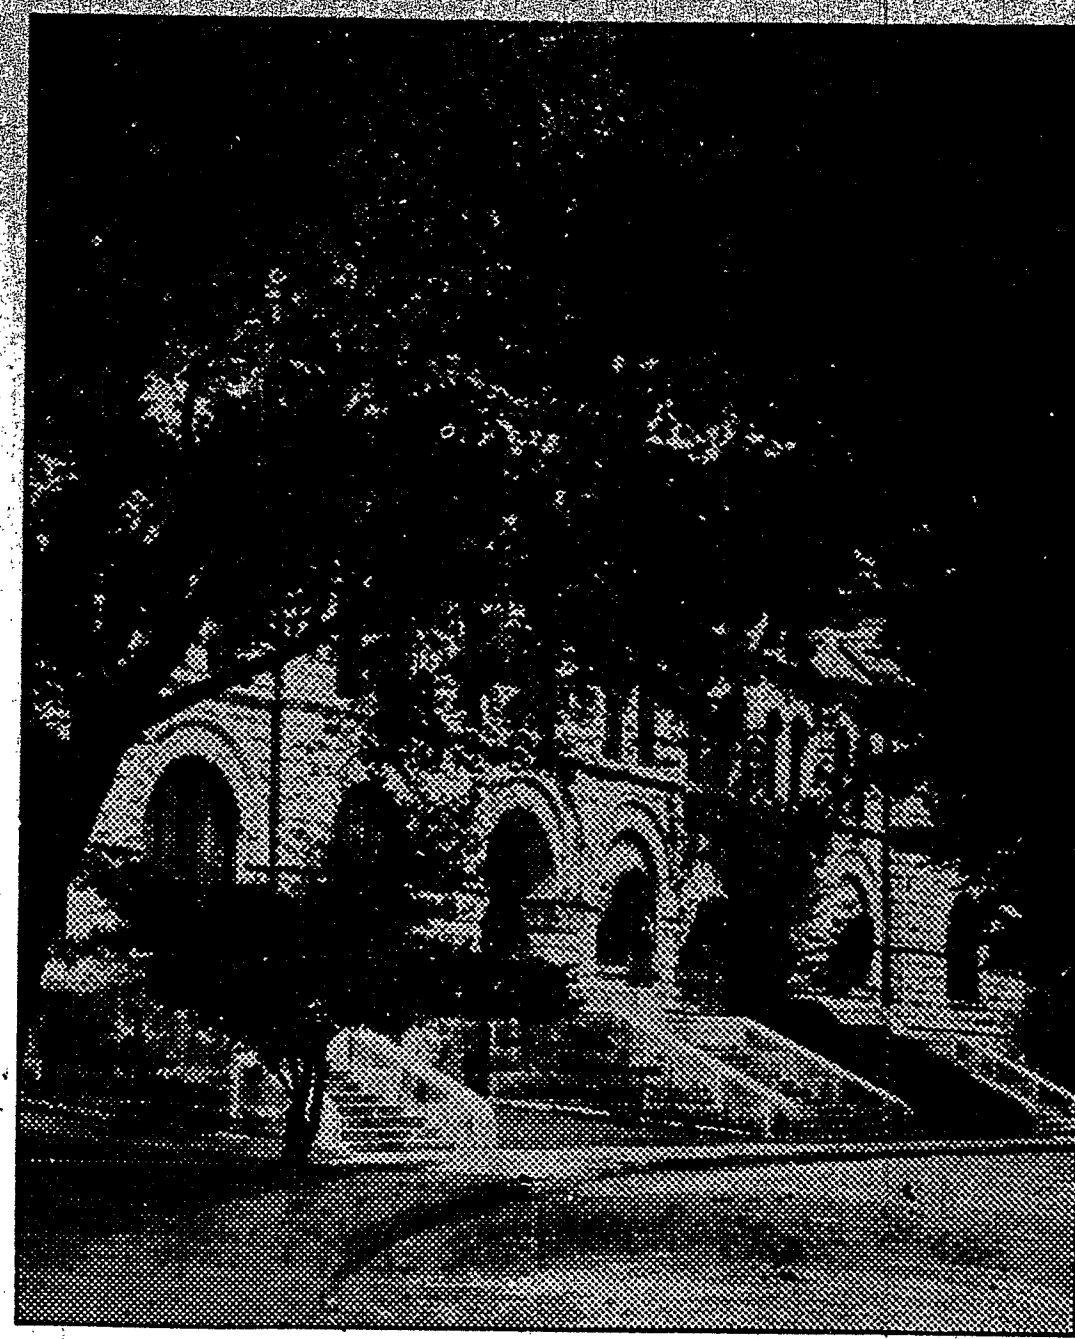

The material prosperity of every inhabitant depends upon the gross amount of money that stays in circulation, locally. When you take your spending money out of this great pool you are certain to lower the level some. When hundreds of others follow your lead the effect upon local business is serious.

We try to be reasonable in advocating home trading. It is a problem that requires the careful co-operation of merchants as well as buyers. Both must do their part in the fight to keep money at home.

WORTHWHILE

THERE are some people who appreciate to the fullest extent the worth of the Boy Scout movement. There are others who, because they know nothing about it, simply pass it by as a boy's camping and fishing club.

If the people who are this ignorant will take the trouble to secure what is known as the Boy's Handbook they will soon learn that their judgment is entirely unwarranted, and that the movement possesses vast educational possibilities. The Echo fully endorses the boy and girl scout movement.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

ALL COSTS MONEY

(Jackson News)

CONCLUDING an editorial on the gubernatorial campaign, the Wayne County News Says:

Mr. White is the only man in the race who hopes to give the voters during administration old age pensions, free school books, good roads, fine hospitals, etc., but admits taxation is necessary. Mr. White is an experienced tax reducer, and after he is elected watch 'em take a nose dive. Mississippi will be better off with just plain common sense administration, an earnest effort to reduce the tax burden as low as humanly possible. Mr. White is the only man in the race who can give what he promises. He is going into the office of Governor with a determination to reduce the tax burden, not in an effort to roll up as large a cash balance in the state coffers as possible. When White is elected, get ready to pay less.

In his campaign addresses Mr. White qualifies his advocacy of free school books by saying he is willing to sign a measure to that effect, "providing it does not impose additional burdens on the taxpayers." Being a first-class business man, Mr. White well knows that it is humanly impossible to provide free school books without the state paying for them, and if paid for by the state, they will add to the tax burden.

That goes also for any old age pension plan. Nothing could be more disastrous to Mississippi at this time than to attempt adoption of an indiscriminate system of old age pensions that would have thousands of negroes sitting idle on front galleries when they ought to be working in the fields. Putting it tersely and brutally, that idea is just damned nonsense.

Some of them, it is said, are even tacking up pictures of political aspirants along the highways and distributing political advertising. Of course, they neglect their official duties while doing so.

Such activity ought to cause summary dismissal, but it won't. Employes thus engaged have been promised jobs in event their favorites win.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS OF THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLK IN HOLLYWOOD

ACCORDING to the casting directors, there is likely to be a dearth of young men to fill the ranks of those, who by reason of advancing or waning popularity retire from the screen or play older roles. According to Phil Friedman, casting director of Fox, there are 100 girls to one boy seeking a screen career.

Mary Pickford, long known as "America's Sweetheart," made her first appearance on the legitimate stage for a full-length drama in 26 years at Seattle recently. Critics hailed her work as brilliant and Miss Pickford took fifteen curtain calls at the close of her appearance.

B. P. Schulberg's first production for Columbia will be "Rich Men's Daughters," based on a story by Gene Towne and Graham Baker. Geo. Raft will have the principal role.

Although the new Charlie Chaplin picture is practically finished, it still has no name. When completed and named, it will be distributed through United Artists channels.

Joan Crawford's next picture for MGM will be known as "Glitter," the name of the short story by W. S. Van Dyke on which it will be based. Brian Aherne will appear with her.

In the cast of "Here's to Romance," which Jesse L. Lasky is to produce immediately, are two notable singers, Nino Martini and Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink. Anita Louise and Genevieve Tobin will have romantic roles.

Frank Borzage has been selected as director for Marlene Dietrich by Paramount for her new picture, "The Pearl Necklace."

Fred Stone, who is now under contract to Paramount, has been borrowed by RKO Radio to appear with Katherine Hepburn in "Alice Adams." His daughter, Paula, has been signed by the latter company for a singing and dancing role in a new musical feature, not yet titled.

William Powell's next film, now titled "Masquerade," has been completed at the MGM studio, will be the film transcription of "The Black Chamber" by Major Herbert O. Yardley.

Warner Brothers recently purchased the screen rights to Lloyd C. Douglas' novel, "Green Light," for production through its affiliate, Cosmopolitan Pictures.

Joel McCrae's first assignment under his new five-year contract with Saumel Goldwyn will be the leading masculine role opposite Miriam Hopkins in "Barbary Coast."

The cast of "A Tale of Two Cities," to be produced by MGM under the direction of David O. Selznick, is practically complete. Ronald Coleman will have the role of Sidney Carton; Elizabeth Allen will be Lucie Manette; Henry B. Walthall, Dr. Manette; O. P. Heggie, Mr. Lorry; Edna Mae Oliver, Miss Pross; Leo Carillo as De Farge; Reginald Owen as Mr. Stryker Fritz Leiber as Gaspar and Basil Rathbone as the Marquis. Alice Brady is to have the role of Madame de Farge and Blanche Yurka, Constance Collier, Cooper.

GRAND ISLAND (LA.) RECLUSE DECLARED NEAR STARVATION ON ISLE OF ROMANCE AND PLENTY

"Miss Randi" Has Become Subject of Public Charge—Thought She Could Subsist on Fruit and Seafood of Locality

Randi Lerohl's flight from civilization to the private and remote precincts of Grand Isle, La., has cracked up, says a press message from that section.

Unless aid is given her, the natives of this romantic island believe she will starve to death before the year is out.

Three years ago, "Miss Randi," as the islanders know her, threw aside her scrubbing mops in Superior, Wisconsin, and answered the call of the Viking blood in her veins. She bought a rowboat with a small cabin and started floating down the Mississippi river to cure her rheumatism in the warm southern sun and to get away from "noisy people."

She had little money but she thought her destination was a veritable Garden of Eden, where she could live in her boat and eat seafood and fruit for the taking. She thought it always was warm and balmy and life an undisturbed dream.

When she reached St. Louis her boat was leaking and battered and she and her craft was sent to New Orleans by steamer. In New Orleans a shipyard presented her with a 22-foot life boat on which was constructed a cabin.

She was towed down the bayous to the Gulf of Mexico where she anchored in a remote, windswept point on Grand Isle, far removed from civilization. Here she has lived alone for three years. She refuses any aid or any contact with the natives except for a few excursions to the store and post office, where occasionally she would receive funds and buy simple supplies.

But lately these trips to the village have been few and far between. She has fallen away to skin and bones and the island folk are genuinely alarmed. Occasionally they will send her a box of provisions but she accepts them reluctantly and sometimes not at all.

"I want to be left alone," she will mumble to the natives. "Go, away!" The reporter was told that it was useless to try to see her as she would not talk but the reporter called on her anyway. At first she would not even turn around but when the reporter offered her a daily newspaper she capitulated and finally began to talk.

Judith Andersen will also appear.

Julie Hayden wandered around Hollywood for quite a while until Francis Lederer saw possibilities in her. She appeared in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," with little notice but when she appeared with Noel Coward she made such a hit that the studio gave her a contract and she will next play opposite Gary Cooper.

She had not seen a newspaper in weeks. She did not know the day of the week or month. She had not talked in so long it was difficult for her.

But, behold, this half-starved woman, living in utter desolation, in one of the most remote spots in the country, asked:

"Have you received any chain letters? I have received ten but I haven't sent any out."

"I guess I'll die, because I can't get away," she said in a slow drawl. "I don't like it much but I will have to stay because my boat leaks. I have been living on 'fish and crabs but sometimes I don't eat. This country is not what I expected. Last winter in the cold spells, I didn't have any heat, so I stayed in bed all day and all night bundled up. Some lady sends me a weekly magazine and I have a Bible which I read. I don't know what day this is. I would like to know when it will be the full of the moon. I haven't talked in so long it makes me feel funny."

So this 52-year-old woman sits alone on her miserable boat waiting for she does not know what. She has "Wanderer" painted on the side of the craft but the islanders believe she is nearing the end of her voyage unless somebody comes to her rescue.

UNSOLVED

Whether a gust of wind or the giving away of part of the structure caused the lurch that lead the dirigible Macon to destruction is unanswered by the Court of Inquiry, which praised the conduct of the officers and crew of the lost airship.

ONLY GOOD CAN MAKE A TREE.

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.
A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;
A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;
A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;
Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

THOMAS A. QUINTINI PASSES ON AFTER LONG AND BAFFLING ILLNESS

Was Native Son and Promi- nently Identified; Connect- With City at Time of Death

Thomas A. Quintini of this city passed away Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at Hotel Dieu, New Orleans, surrounded by his loved ones and his spirit fortified by the sacraments of his church.

The remains were shipped that evening to Bay St. Louis for final consignment. Although it was known he had been quite ill from time to time and that more recently his condition was anything but reassuring, the news of his death nevertheless was received as a shock and much sorrow expressed. In the very prime of manhood his passing on is considered untimely and all the more regrettable.

Thomas Quintini was a son of the late August and Annie Quintini, one of the oldest families of this section. Both Mr. and Mrs. Quintini resided here many years and were identified with the community in more ways than one. Friend of the church, religious school institutions and equally as active in charitable and civic endeavor.

He was a native of Bay St. Louis, aged 46 years, educated by the Brothers of St. Stanislaus. In early life he was married to Miss Alma Betz of Bay St. Louis. To this union five children were born, Misses Lorraine and Donna Mae and T. A. Jr., Joel and Jacqueline.

Mr. Quintini prior to his taking ill was an attaché of the department of public works of the city of Bay St. Louis, a most conscientious and competent worker, known for his uniform courtesy and extreme willingness and ever accommodating. City officials pay his services glowing tribute. Mayor Blaize said: "We never had a more competent and worthy man in the city's employ." Commissioner Bourgeois and Perkins both were unanimous in voicing the same opinion.

He was a member of Pere Leduc Council, No. 1522, Knight of Columbus; Cedar Grove Camp No. 507, Woodmen of the World, and Tent No. 67, Order of Maccabees. In each of these organizations he ranked as an active and worthy member.

Funeral ceremony, Friday afternoon, took place from the Fahey Funeral Home, Union Street, where the body rested the night previously. All during the night and the day following throngs of friends and acquaintances visited the place to pay their last respects. Many came from New Orleans, along the Coast section and from parts of the county and other sections. Rev. Father Leo F. Fahey, assistant pastor Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, a life-long friend, officiated at the funeral. At the church Our Lady of the Gulf, Brothers of the Sacred Heart, from St. Stanislaus College, occupied the choir and sang the requiem music incidental to the ceremony.

The Funeral

People residing here for many years said the funeral was one of the largest—if not the largest—ever witnessed in Bay St. Louis. People in every walk of life, of all ages, irrespective of creed or calling were present. Business and professional men, city and county officials and other prominent figures in the local life—all joined in one objective of paying their respect and tribute to the memory of a man who had lived an exemplary life. One who had no enemies, one who was a family man of the ideal type and a friend and acquaintance who was ever willing to do and to be of service; of unselfish spirit and of that abiding faith in mankind and human kindness that stamped him as the fine type of man and citizen that he was.

NEW PROMOTIONAL RATE FOR URBAN RESIDENTIAL SERVICE

The promotional rate is much lower than the present rate. It offers to any customer, who wishes to increase his use of electricity or to further electrify his home, an opportunity to do so at unusually low prices for all the electricity he uses. In order to apply the promotional rate for any month after July 1, 1935, it is necessary to know the amount of electricity you used for the same month during the 12 months previous to July 1, 1935, this amount being your "base consumption" for that month. For example: If you use 70 kilowatt hours for any month after July 1, 1935 (and your "base consumption" for that month was 70 kilowatt hours) your bill will be figured on the present rate and will be $4.30. (See Column A Below). And for this $4.30 you are entitled to use as much as 14 kilowatt hours additional at no extra cost or 84 kilowatt hours in all. (See Column 2). Suppose, however, that you added an electric range which consumes on the average about 130 kilowatt hours monthly. You would then exceed your 14 extra kilowatt hours. . . . in fact you would use 70 plus 130 or 200 kilowatt hours. Hence you would be billed for the entire 200 kilowatt hours for this month on the promotional rate and your bill would be $6.62. (See Column 3). In this particular case, it would cost you only $2.32 to operate your range for the month. First . . . you can use this rate to your advantage to qualify for the promotional rate. Second . . . you gain the added comforts and conveniences of modern electrical household appliances. Third . . . you enjoy a lower rate for these services. Third . . . Whatever else you add in the way of electrical equipment also comes to you at this lower rate.

Notice to Our Customers

The application of these new rates is entirely automatic. Our billing department will bill you each month on the particular rate to which you are entitled by your use of electricity during that month.

Lt.-Governor Dennis Murphree

His platform is good from bottom to top, every plank in it. He believes we should have good roads within the bounds of reason. He believes we should have all good things but the best son. In other words he is not in thing he believes in is pay as you go. In other words he is not in favor of burdening the people to death with taxation. We have had bad roads for a thousand years, why not be content to have good roads in a few years, instead of all at once. If he had but one plank in his platform, pay as you go, it alone should elect him Governor of Mississippi.

MURPHREE CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE.

last resting place in the new section of St. Mary Cemetery, on the south side. Here the newly-made mound was literally covered with a wealth of flowers, tributes of sympathy to the bereaved and also to the memory of the departed one.

Three of the outstanding designs, placed at the head of the grave, were from the Knights of Columbus to the left, Woodmen of the World center and to the right local Tent of the Maccabees.

Woodmen of the World design was in form of an immense wreath, the entire left side and partly top was covered with white calla lilies, red gladiolas and carnations of the same color completing the circle.

Knights of Columbus offering was of similar design fashioned with gardenias one solid half while the other half was of red and white carnations.

Maccabee offering of the same type carried the colors of the organization in long and wide ribbon streamers of black and red. Red and white carnations were effectively used. Innumerable other bouquets and sprays were of the same kind of flowers, a mass of color and beauty, silent though eloquent in the expression of tenderness thus expressed.

Surviving Relatives

In addition to his own immediate family, the deceased is survived by two brothers, Frank and Ernest Quintini, one sister, Mrs. Claud Monti, residents of Bay St. Louis and all well known. Mrs. Monti is well known for her successful activities in church, fraternal and civic work and equally as well in general welfare endeavor. Her affiliation with various organizations are known in two states.

Mr. Quintini was ill for quite a long time. His case was somewhat baffling and difficult of diagnosis. He received the very best medical attention locally. Finally, his condition did not improve. He was removed to New Orleans and remained there under observation and care of specialists. His condition only grew worse and sinking spells after another only weakened his condition and hastened the end.

His passing away is of much regret. His family has the sympathy of the community.

SCOUT ACTIVITIES

AN OUTDOOR MEETING

LAST Wednesday night, May 29, Troop 217 went on an outdoor meeting to celebrate the first anniversary of the troop. We left the Scout house about 7:30 P. M. and returned about 10:15 P. M. We played several games, among which were the handkerchief relay, free for all, Prince-a-Pilson, and others. The food was well. We had hotdogs with mustard, ice cream, and lemonade. We had all the lemonade we wanted, three hotdog sandwiches, three ice cream cones and the first nine boys in the Prince-a-Pilson game received an ice cream cone. Each patrol had built a tower, the Pine-Tree Patrol had a comical First Aid school, the Flying-Eagle Patrol had a short skit on the fourth Scout Law, A Scout is Friendly; they also sang a song. Father Gmelch delivered a short talk to the troop congratulating it on its good work. He also said that when this troop started last year there were doubts as to whether it would be here this year, but it has turned out quite different. This year the troop is twice as large as it was then and is still growing. The meeting was closed with the song, "Until We Meet Again."
